ECEXA NEWS – AgriFuture Days 2016

The "Agrifuture Days" are organized by the Club of Ossiach, a group of farmers, agribusiness managers, agricultural and forestry technologists, environmentalists and ICT specialists from around the world.

Around 50 lectures and a large number of decision-makers from practice, governments and organizations from all over the world were present at the Villach convention center.

ECEXA and its training partner - the "Alfred Nobel Open University" - presented their new training concept "LESEL" for developing and emerging countries.

Present also Ing. Norbert Hofer. (Federal Minister of transport, innovation and technology, former Presidential candidate and 3rd National Council President)
